OUR STORY

OUR STORY

The OHHF was founded on one simple vision, to take our love for Ollie and to spread it around. After losing Ollie, the only way we could move forward was to take all the love we were shown by family and friends during his battle with CHD and pay it forward to other heart families whose struggles we knew firsthand. Spreading love is truly the guiding principle behind the support we've provided to the heart community since our inception in 2013.

In 2021, we started a campaign to spread more love, taking what we started and seeing how far we could grow. This grassroots idea of taking our love for Ollie and sharing it with others grew into a determined and steadfast team that together raised over $1 million in 2021!

We consider 2021 the year of change, which all took place through the unrelenting pandemic. Covid interrupted many things but it did not take away the immense needs of the high risk population we serve. In fact, our families needed us more than ever before. The pandemic highlighted the mental health crisis in our country and the gaps in healthcare to support those affected by this crisis. Mark and I have always been committed to identifying gaps in the care of heart families and filling those needs. And the gaps in mental health support for these families was expansive.

Heart families face many hardships that are out of their control. At the OHHF we ease their stress by creating programs that address their unmet needs—outreach to wrap them in love, Ollie's Branch for mental health support, and technology to improve outcomes.

In 2021 we expanded into new markets—what we're doing is so important and so impactful that heart centers in other cities are reaching out and asking us to bring OHHF to them. CHD knows no boundaries and knows no borders. So our answer was simple—"yes," more families, more impact.

As we reflect on 2021, we're also looking ahead to 2022. We are so excited for the direction OHHF is headed right now. However, there is still so much work to be done. And while we find ourselves as leaders in the mental health space as it relates to caring for heart families, when we look back at our growth, this process of finding and establishing ourselves has been very organic. And none of this is possible without the support of our donors. Ollie's legacy is about being courageous and innovative to lead change, which takes a village—from our talented OHHF team to our Board of Directors to our donors to the heart community and the clinicians who serve them. All that we've accomplished, we accomplished together! And together we are going to transform the future of pediatric heart care.

Over 80% increase of donations in the last 5 years

Over 1,100 new donors in the last 5 years, averaging over 230 new donors each year

+3,000 followers on social media and within our mailing list over the last 5 years

On average helping 1,000 families a year

OUR COMMITMENT

We show up each day to wrap heart families in love, belonging, and empowerment. We aim to provide a lifeline to lifelong support that demonstrates that we see you. This includes:

- ♥ Diverse talents and identities working together in our community to put the heart back in healthcare
- ♥ Equity in how we create access to care without barriers
- ♥ Inclusion in how we unleash the power of love

OHHF is committed to looking through a collective lens to serve our local and national community. We put a family's mental and physical well-being at the forefront of care. We do this by eliminating barriers, advocating necessary state and federal policy change, and addressing social determinants of health. We do this work through partnership, collaboration, love, acknowledgement, and reconciliation.

OHHF services and programs are provided to every heart family regardless of race, color, nationality or ethnicity, age, gender identity or expression, sexual orientation, religion or spirituality, language, national or social origin, ability, and socioeconomic background.

Free Mental Health Services for Heart Families

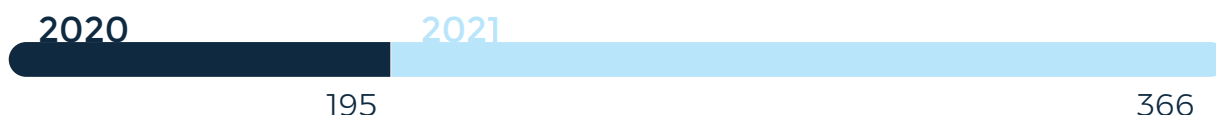

Supporting the mental wellness of the heart community is a top priority for Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation. The emotional support and mental health needs of heart warriors and their families are often overlooked.

- ♥ Youth with CHD have up to 7x higher rates of anxiety, depression, and ADHD compared to those without CHD especially in heart warriors aged 4-9 years old
- ♥ Up to 50% of parents of children with critical CHD report clinically elevated symptoms of depression and/or anxiety
- ♥ Up to 80% of parents report experiencing severe psychological distress

Ollie is paying his legacy forward by providing services and fulfilling the unmet mental health needs through Ollie's Branch. This program is an access point to mental health specialists that support heart families (including heart warriors, parents, grandparents, siblings, other caregivers, and even the healthcare providers) through therapy sessions offered at no cost to the recipient. Supporting mental wellness and extending peace of mind provides the family and entire care team with necessary resiliency and coping tools to span the continuum of care.

COMPLETED THERAPY SESSIONS 2020 VS. 2021

Much gratitude to Ollie's family and the organization for this incredibly impactful program. I think about all the worries and frustration during my career knowing families needed help (even before they did) and not being able to do anything other than offer understanding and comments like 'hang in there' with a hug."

TAKE HEART

Virtual, Interactive CHD Conference

Take Heart is our annual virtual interactive educational conference that unites heart families with leading heart clinicians and healthcare systems locally and nationally to share, collaborate, and lead innovation to gain courage, confidence, and hope addressing the needs of today while transforming the future of heart care.

In 2021, we covered panels on heart families in the age of COVID; recommendations on explaining CHD to young kids; and a panel of teen & young adult heart warriors who shared their experience growing up with CHDs. The program also featured videos on 3D printing and information about our Ollie's Branch mental health program.

OUTREACH

Loving Support for Heart Families

Heart families have the unfortunate experience of knowing what it's like to live in a hospital- which often means parents are faced with the impossible decision to work or take unpaid leave to stay by their child's side while they fight for their life. Financial support for housing, utilities, food insecurities, travel, etc. eases the additional stress that comes from the days, weeks, or even months spent inpatient and allows a family to focus their attention on what matters the most, their heart warrior.

As a result of investing in impactful partnerships and building relationships, OHHF is the first place heart families and healthcare teams turn when support is needed.

RAPID RESPONSE

OHHF responds in times of disaster by providing essential support and resources to Heart Families impacted by unprecedented events. In 2021 this included the winter storm causing power blackout in Texas and Hurricane Ida followed by intense storm surge in Louisiana. OHHF sent much needed supplies, food, and gift cards to Heart Families in local hospitals alleviating financial stress and food insecurities during these national disasters.

CREATING COMMUNITY

OHHF takes pride in creating space for the heart community to come together to make life long bonds and friendships to carry one through their family's heart journey. In 2021, we held our largest post-pandemic Heart Mom Annual Ornament Exchange uniting 28 heart moms. OHHF has big plans for outreach in 2022 including night with the St. Louis Blues, Movie Night, Heart Family Day at Top Golf, and much more.

We were able to extend our reach to 8 different states while maximizing our efforts in the St. Louis area and doubling our financial impact from previous years.

Me and my family wanted to say thank you from the bottom of our hearts for the kind gifts. They have made a little boy happy and over the moon.”

- Heart Mom

INNOVATIVE TECHNOLOGY

Funding Prediction, Prevention, and Precision in 2021

One of the main pillars of the Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation is funding innovative and impactful technology that can transform the care heart warriors receive today while improving outcomes for a lifetime. We focus on improving prediction, prevention, and precision in the treatment and advancement of pediatric heart care.

PREDICTION

3D CARDIAC PRINTER

St. Louis Children's Heart Center

Allow surgeons to navigate complicated heart anatomy in a practice environment to give the heart warrior the best outcome during the actual surgery and minimizing the risk of complications.

PREVENTION

INFANT CPR ANYTIME KITS <sup>(350)</sup>

Mercy Kids Children's Hospital

Provide discharging parents with the necessary skills and peace of mind to help their own child if needed.

Expanding the number of people trained in our community to provide effective CPR, increasing chances of survival by 2-3 times when CPR is initiated by a bystander.

CPR saves lives.... just ask our very own ACHD survivor, Sydney. Scan the QR code on page 23 to learn more!

PRECISION

VASCULAR ACCESS ULTRASOUND MACHINE

Mercy Kids Children's Hospital

Providing clinicians clear images to allow for successful central or peripheral line placement to minimize the trauma of the experience for the heart warrior.

2021 FUNDING BREAKDOWN

Technology inspires us to turn limitations into possibilities giving heart warriors and their families tangible hope.”

- Pediatric Cardiac Nurse Practitioner

The 3D printer was remarkably helpful. I am very confident that this will aid the patient's transplant...and allow me to perform the procedure faster. This can translate into a difference in patient outcome. The work you guys are doing is very valuable. I appreciate it very much.”

- Dr. Jacob Miller
Pediatric Cardiothoracic Surgeon

FROM OUR OWN

---

I met Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation (OHHF) in 2017 when St. Louis Children's Hospital reached out regarding the gap in mental health care for heart families. I could see and feel how the Hinkles understood the criticality of the need. This is when I knew that OHHF was a leader in a space where many would not venture as I witnessed OHHF's responsiveness to address this need. Then came the pandemic launching the birth of Ollie's Branch to address the mental health and wellbeing of heart families virtually as safety became the priority, stripping heart families and clinicians of crucial support systems. Heart families were faced with strict visitation rules and only the most essential healthcare workers (doctors & nurses) were allowed at their child's bedside to prevent the spread of COVID. Ollie's Branch rounds our healthcare system's ability to care for the entire ecosystem surrounding the heart child and puts the "heart" back in healthcare despite the pressures of the pandemic, giving heart families a lifeline to lifelong support when it was needed most.

OHHF's impact and reach is changing the future for generations of heart children to come. OHHF's innovative partnerships are a big piece of this. Collaborating with game changing technology companies like Etiometry, "T3" predictive medicine software researched and designed by pediatric heart clinicians, does what doctors and nurses can't do which is filter millions of data points on each heart patient to predict instability and give clinicians early warning. I think the Hinkles said it best, "if this technology existed for Ollie, then the outcome could have been different" hence OHHF's commitment to improving the future for mental healthcare and changing outcomes for heart patients and families locally and nationally.

OHHF's beginning birthed out of tragedy that has wrapped heart families in love and has complimented the technical side of healthcare by providing the human-side of care. The next phase of OHHF's journey will be impacting mental health care as we know it today by uniting heart families, heart clinicians, and healthcare systems through a national collaborative; changing policy, eliminating stigma, creating equitable and barrier-free access; and placing value that the insurance industry cannot deny.

Stay on or join OHHF's journey to be a part of a legacy that makes our world better for future generations to come!

I am honored to be serving on the Board of the Ollie Hinkle Heart Foundation. Their clear commitment to provide services to families facing the challenges of CHD is inspirational. As they expand their services, they are addressing the needs of heart families not only with medical support, but also providing much needed access to mental health support. Through their funding, there have been significant contributions in innovative technology to help improve the care of children with CHDs.

OUR HEART HEROES

When my husband and I heard the story of Ollie Hinkle our hearts went out to Mark and Jenn. We were all too familiar with congenital heart disease. Our youngest son, Keegan, was born with double outlet right ventricle. We were frightened by this diagnosis. He seemed like a normal healthy baby. His first cyanotic episode was at 8 months old which led to open heart surgery at Mott's Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor. The surgeons put a patch on his VSD and cut open his narrow pulmonary artery so the blood could flow freely.

All was good until he was 2 1/2 years old. He needed a second surgery at The Ohio State University's Children's Hospital. The surgeon adjusted the patch on the VSD and put in a human donor valve where the pulmonary artery was cut before. He was out of the hospital in five days. He was running around the house as volunteers from church were bringing us dinner. I thought that they might take their casseroles away! We were told he would need another surgery by the time he was 9 or 10 years old. He was 16 when the time came. We went the day before the surgery for pre-op tests. It was hard to watch him cope with the impending surgery. We received a phone call when we got home from the hospital. The surgeons were discussing the next day's surgeries. Keegan was a candidate for a new procedure that was much less invasive. He received a Melody Valve a few weeks later.

Keegan is 29 years old. He is a very smart, witty, and kind young man. We feel so blessed for his success with the surgeries and procedures that we feel compelled to give back.

The work that OHHF does is just incredible. At first the donations raised to help with research and technology and also helping with each family's financial need was cause enough. The added mental wellness component is extraordinary. It is so hard on the family especially the siblings that need to be shuffled while the parents are dealing with the sick child. We are just so proud of Mark and Jenn and their commitment to make something so good out of their tremendous loss.
